"The Right to Lie"

BY JANE MURFIN

The truth - the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

MATINEES.

What Right Had She to Lie?

Would You Lie After You took the Oath on the Bible?

Would You Bare Your Soul, and Sacrifice Your Good Name, for some One You Loved?

This is the summons that this Girl answered— Could You Answer it?

Wait---First See!

This forceful Heart-Story— featuring "The Cameo Girl" in a drama that is stirring the town to its depths.

Sunday Big Day for Lutherans.

Sunday proved to be another "Red-letter day" to the Lutheran congregation. It came as a climax to a week of great things. A splendid class of twenty-one young people were received into the church by the solemn rite of confirmation. It was a truly impressive sight to see these young people come to the altar in public confession of their faith and afterwards receive the Sacrament of the Holy Communion. The Sacrament of Baptism was administered to eight infants. There was also a class of fourteen adults received into the church, making thirty-five for the day.

The Sacrament of the Holy Communion was administered at both the morning and evening services, about 200 partaking thereof.

At the evening service the pastor preached the pre-Lenten message on "The Blessed Season of Lent." The choir sang "God so Loved the World" by Ambrose.

At both services the Lenten Calendars were distributed announcing three series of special messages Sunday morning and evening and Wednesday nights. The theme for the six Wednesday night services is "Prayer" and the first will be delivered tomorrow night at eight o'clock—"The Place of Prayer in the Christian Life."

"Flo Flo."

John Cort is bringing FLO-FLO, his sensational musical comedy hit to the Keith theatre Friday, Feb. 27th.

With its "perfect 36" chorus, comedy dancers, hitting lyrics and magnificent fashion parades—of which there are three—FLO-FLO has held the interest of New York theatre-goers more firmly than any other musical play of the year.

The plot of FLO-FLO, which is the work of Fred De Gressac, concerns the love affair of Angelina Stokes, daughter of a match-making mother, who wishes to marry her only child to an undoubtedly, but not openly, bogus Count. The mother has ordered her daughter's trousseau of Mosher and Simpson, proprietors of the Bride Shop, to whom Angelina's sweetheart has applied for a position, which is immediately given him on the strength of Simpson's acquaintance with the young man's father. There Angelina, who arrives for a fitting, accompanied by the Count and her mother, meets her childhood sweetheart. She is discovered in the young man's arms by her mother, who orders Mosher and Simpson to discharge him immediately.

Billy, the young man, being discharged and parted from Angelina, falls for the wiles of Flo-Flo, the beautiful and shapely model of the Bride Shop. Angelina discovers them in each other's arms and is heart-broken. But her wedding to the false Count is not to be, for he is unmasked and Billy and Angelina are reunited thru the intrigues of Pinky and Aloysius, the "Sherlock Holmes and Watson" of the play.

Dixon will put an Edison in your home on the payment plan.

Among those who attended the K. C. initiation and banquet at Grand Island Sunday were Joe, Arthur, Frank and Charles Nolan, P. H. Sullivan, Robert Sullivan and Jack Norris.

A cold wave passed north and east of us Sunday and at some points zero weather was experienced while in North Platte it was mild. Weather Observer Shilling anticipates pleasant weather for this week—regular banana belt weather, he says.

The woman the world worships is she whose love for her man or her child is so great that in it she loses self. "The Turning Point," a romance of glorious womanhood, written by an author who understands womanhood, Robert W. Chambers, will be the feature attraction at the Crystal tonight and tomorrow. The picture beautiful, 'twill make your heart strings sing.
